20 Years and Change

To kick-off the celebration of the Harrison County Community Foundation's 20th year, HCCF held an anniversary dinner on October 29, 2015 at Horseshoe Southern Indiana. At the dinner, HCCF provided each table of attendees $1,000 to distribute among a list of 33 designated endowment funds that support nonprofit organizations providing services in Harrison County.

In addition, HCCF provided each attendee the opportunity to direct $20 (the price of their attendance ticket) to any existing endowment fund held at the foundation. A total of $46,000 was awarded to 98 different endowment funds during the evening.

The following six funds received the highest amounts:
- YMCA of Harrison County Fund - $4,950
- Hosparus of Harrison County Fund - $3,830
- Comfort House Fund - $3,240
- Harrison County Parks and Recreation Fund - $3,120
- Hayswood Theatre Fund - $2,560
- Harrison County Community Services Fund - $2,540

HCCF was created in 1996 by an agreement between the Harrison County Commissioners, Caesars Indiana, and the State of Indiana Gaming Commission. The Foundation will continue to celebrate throughout 2016.

Jump Start Program

Since 2014, the Harrison County Community Foundation has funded Jump Start, a 5-year pilot program that funds full-day preschool for at-risk children at several locations in Harrison County. Noah’s Ark Preschool, located at Unity Chapel United Methodist Church in Ramsey, was one of the Jump Start grant recipients for the 2014-15 school year. The grant allowed the preschool to provide full-day services for up to 18 children.

Allison Miller, director of Noah’s Ark Preschool, said the preschool was unable to provide full-day services until it received the Jump Start grant. Miller said she is grateful that the preschool is able to serve more children as a result.

“Our goal is really to get as many kids inside of here as possible, and get them some kind of education, so the Jump Start program’s really increased the number of families that we can help,” Miller said.

As a result of the grant, Noah’s Ark hired a part-time instructor and added physical education and music enrichment programs. Additionally, the grant has helped to provide lunches from North Harrison Community School Corporation, and it has allowed the preschool's students to receive remediation based on their social and academic needs.

For example, Miller said one of the students came to the preschool unable to recognize or spell her name, and she needed assistance using the bathroom, having accidents throughout the day. The Noah’s Ark Preschool staff helped her improve in these areas, and she could write and spell her name from memory by the end of the year.

“That just shows how important this program is, just to get these kids into a five-day program where they have a little bit of structure, where they have people that are able to work with them,” Miller said.

Funding from the Jump Start grant helped Noah’s Ark Preschool earn a Level 1 rating in Paths to Quality, a child care national accreditation system, in 2015. The Paths to Quality program is administered locally by the Southern Indiana Economic Opportunity Corporation, Inc. (SIEOC). HCCF has made funding available to preschool providers through SIEOC to purchase needed equipment, send staff members to required training sessions, and obtain Paths to Quality certification.

Miller said she would like to see the number of children served through the Jump Start grant increase, and she would like Noah’s Ark Preschool to reach Paths to Quality Level 4, so it can achieve national accreditation. But above all, she wants the preschool to continue to impact the local community.

“I feel like we’re strengthening the community, just one little bit at a time,” she said.

“Last year, one of our students was playing with a group of friends near the Ohio River. It was really hot and they wanted to go swimming. Some of the kids in her group suggested swimming in the Ohio. They walked down to the bank. She said that the water was swirling and you couldn’t see the bottom. She told the other kids that it was unsafe. She said that they learned at SPLASH, if you cannot see the bottom that it is not safe. She talked to the other kids about the currents and that you don’t know what is under the water. They decided to go to another student’s house in Mauckport and play with the hose and a baby pool.”

Fund Spotlight

Charles Eckart Family Charitable Donor Advised Fund
The Harrison County Community Foundation's first endowed donor advised fund was established in December 2014 when Charles Eckart, his wife Violet Eckart, and three of their children – Christian Eckart, Holly Strange and Heidi Seuling – chose to create the Charles Eckart Family Charitable Donor Advised Fund.

Charles and Violet grew up in Harrison County, and they raised their children there. Charles said he and Violet have been part of several organizations in the county, and they wanted to give back to promote the interests of Harrison County in some way.

Charles said he, his wife and their children wanted to start a donor advised fund because they knew many Harrison County nonprofits did not need a huge grant, but instead needed help doing small things.

“We felt this would be a way that we could direct money to organizations that basically worked at making life better for people here in Harrison County,” Charles said.

Charles said he and his family hold meetings to decide which organizations they would like to support, how they would like to support them and how much money is needed to provide that support. Then, the family recommends grants to the HCCF board.

In 2015, money from the Charles Eckart Family Charitable Donor Advised Fund supported the purchase of refreshments for Harrison County CASA and a patron night sponsored by Harrison County Arts.

Charles said his family plans to have the fund support Veterans of Harrison County, the Historical Society of Harrison County and other nonprofits in the future. He said the fund has enabled his family to feel good about helping organizations they had also wanted to help in the past.

Charles said some of his family members have donated to the fund, and he encourages others to donate as well. In addition, Charles said he would encourage others to start donor advised funds at HCCF.

“I think this is a marvelous tool that should encourage many others to take advantage of this opportunity to provide a permanent legacy,” Charles said. “I absolutely encourage anyone to use this vehicle to make a difference in the county.”

Building on Success: Gift VI

Lilly Endowment, Inc. announced a statewide challenge grant to community foundations in Indiana in July 2014. The challenge was called the Lilly Endowment GIFT VI initiative, and it spurred HCCF to relate to the community in a whole new way. Never before had the Foundation asked the community to demonstrate support by giving to an unrestricted fund.

HCCF has always been the source of matching funds for donors. The tables were turned as gifts to an unrestricted fund allowed HCCF to leverage a match into Harrison County. Lilly Endowment made up to $250,000 available for the match in return for raising unrestricted funds.

Additionally, HCCF began to offer named “Builder’s Funds.” People who establish Builder’s Funds are able to track how their gifts are used to meet needs and bring about positive change. By logging into their own unique account through Fund Web, founding contributors see how their gifts are pooled together to provide grants and fund programs.

Because Builder’s Funds were embraced with such success, HCCF will continue to offer these named unrestricted funds with a minimum initial gift of $2,500.

We thank our donors who contributed a total of $191,650 to unrestricted funds in 2015.
